

PUF Pipe Insulation Supports | Vivan Industries

Delivering high-performance thermal insulation solutions since 2015, we specialise in Polyurethane Foam (PUF) pipe supports engineered for industrial pipelines. Trusted by 55+ clients across diverse sectors, our 9+ years of expertise drives insulation innovation and energy efficiency for critical infrastructure projects.

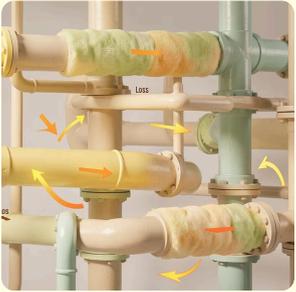

What Are PUF Pipe Insulation Supports?

Custom-made supports manufactured from high-density polyurethane foam ranging from 100 to 300 Kg/m³, specifically designed for pipe sizes from 15 NB to 350 NB. These advanced supports ensure both structural integrity and thermal continuity throughout your pipeline system.

They replace conventional wooden or metal supports with superior insulation properties and exceptional durability, whilst being resistant to moisture, corrosion, and harsh environmental conditions for reliable indoor and outdoor applications.

Key Features & Benefits

Superior Thermal Performance

Excellent thermal insulation significantly reduces energy loss and prevents condensation, optimising your pipeline efficiency.

Lightweight & Strong

High compressive strength supports heavy-duty applications whilst remaining lightweight for easy installation and handling.

Customised Solutions

Available in various thicknesses (10–150 mm) and densities, precisely tailored to meet your specific project requirements.

Quality Assurance

Manufactured with precision and rigorous quality control at Vivan's advanced facilities, ensuring consistent performance and longevity.

Why Choose Vivan Industries?

Our Commitment

Quality, innovation, and customer-centric service drive everything we do.

Empower your projects with Vivan's robust insulation technology for enhanced energy efficiency and exceptional longevity. Contact us today to receive a customised quote and elevate your pipeline insulation standards to the next level.

Comprehensive Range

PUF/PIR pipe supports, sections, slabs, and in-situ foam solutions.

Competitive Pricing

Customised solutions tailored for diverse industrial sectors.

Timely Delivery

Reliable service ensuring your projects stay on schedule.